

Staying safe while browsing the internet

Conceived by Sally Paveley and Nick Wonham
Designed by Nick Wonham

What are you going to learn?

- To learn what it is okay to look at and listen to on the internet
- To learn what it is not okay to look at and listen to on the internet

Thanks to copyright holders of company logos and images contained in this resource.

Browsing the internet can be great fun. You can play online games,

search for pictures,

watch videos,

listen to music,

this is okay.

But not everything on the internet is good to look at or listen to.

Looking at pictures or videos of people showing private parts of their bodies or doing private things, listening to music which has swear words in it, looking at pictures or videos of people hurting or being horrible to each other, or playing violent games, this is not okay.

If you see or hear anything while browsing on the internet that makes you feel sad or angry, or that you think is not okay,

then tell your Mum, Dad, carer, or an adult you trust such as your teacher.

Is listening to music with swear words in it okay or not okay?

That's right, listening to music with swear words in it is not okay? This is because swear words are rude and can upset some people.

Is searching for pictures of cars okay or not okay?

Yes, searching for pictures of cars, and many other pictures of things, is okay.

Is watching a cartoon on YouTube okay or not okay?

Good, watching a cartoon, or many other videos, on YouTube is okay.

Is looking at pictures of people with no clothes on okay or not okay?

That's right, looking at pictures of people with no clothes on is not okay? This is because it should be private.

Is playing online games okay or not okay?

Yes, most online games are okay to play.

Is playing violent online games okay or not okay?

Good, playing violent online games is not okay? Hurting, or being horrible to people is never okay, even when it is on the computer.

What is okay here?

searching for pictures of cars,

or searching for pictures of people with no clothes on?

Yes, searching for pictures of cars is okay.

What is not okay?

Playing online games,

or playing violent online games?

That's right, playing violent online games is not okay.

Remember, if you see or hear anything while browsing on the internet that makes you feel sad or angry, or that you think is not okay,

then tell your Mum, Dad, carer, or an adult you trust such as your teacher.

